1 How to access consolidated documents?

Consolidated legislation is available online only, on the EUR-Lex website. It can be consulted or downloaded, for free, as a PDF or HTML file.

Once on the EUR-Lex webpage you can access consolidated legislation using different search options. The shortest way is by "CELEX number" (see grey highlighted option in Fig 1). Click on.

After having selected the CELEX search option, enter "0" (= sector dedicated to consolidated legislation) + the CELEX number of the required document. For instance, to access the consolidated version of the Council Common Position 2002/402, enter 02002E0402 (see Fig. 2).

More information on how to access consolidated legislation is available in EUR-Lex, using following link:
<http://eur-lex.europa.eu/en/tools/faq.htm>.

To display the consolidated document, you can click on the "HTML" respectively "PDF" icons (see Fig 3). In this case, the consolidated document will be displayed in the format selected, however only in one language version (to change the language version, see the menu in right top corner).

Selecting the option "Languages and formats available" (see Fig. 4) you can easier access to different language versions, switching from a language version to another or from PDF to HTML.

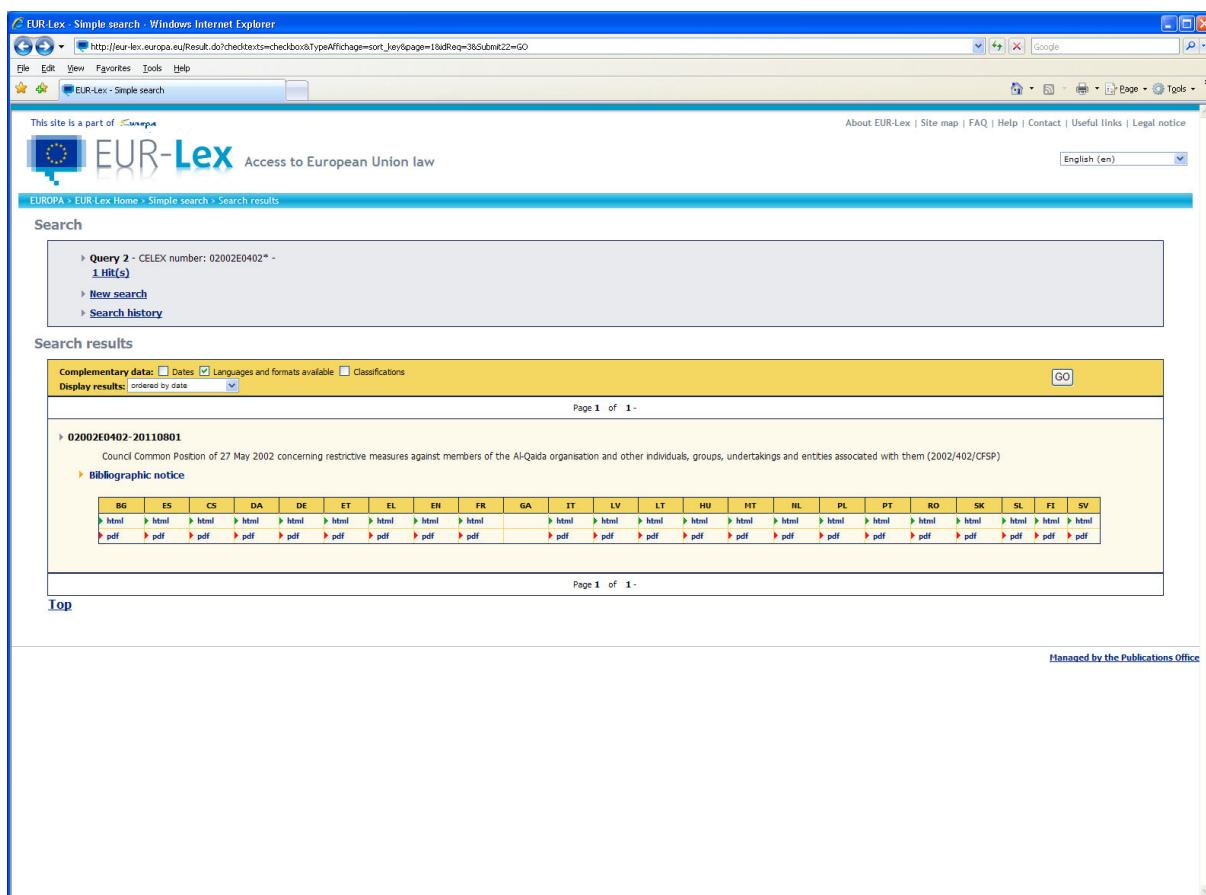

Fig. 4

Please note that the HTML version provides a direct link to the basic act and/or to the modifier(s). To use this option, once displayed the consolidation in the HTML format click on the tag (B, M etc., and/or the blue highlighted parts) referring to the document you would like to access (see Fig. 5).

COUNCIL COMMON POSITION of 27 May 2002
concerning restrictive measures against members of the Al-Qaida organisation and other individuals, groups, undertakings and entities associated with them
(2002/402/CFSP)

►B

THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,
Having regard to the Treaty on European Union, and in particular Article 15 thereof, Whereas:

- On 19 October 2001, the European Council declared that it is determined to combat terrorism in every form throughout the world and that it will continue its efforts to strengthen the coalition of the international community to combat terrorism in every shape and form.
- On 16 January 2002 the United Nations Security Council adopted Resolution 1390(2002), hereinafter referred to as 'UNSCR 1390(2002)', setting out measures to be imposed against Usama bin Laden, members of the Al-Qaida organisation and the Taliban and other individuals, groups, undertakings and entities associated with them.
- UNSCR 1390(2002) adjusts the scope of the sanctions concerning the freezing of funds, the visa ban and the embargo on supply, sale or transfer of arms as well as on technical advice, assistance or training related to military activities imposed by UNSCR 1267(1999) and 1333(2000).
- In accordance with paragraph 3 of UNSCR 1390(2002), the above measures will be reviewed by the UN Security Council 12 months after adoption of the resolution and at the end of this period the Security Council will either allow the measures to continue or decide to improve them.
- UNSCR 1390(2002) imposes a travel ban on Usama bin Laden, members of the Al-Qaida organisation and the Taliban and other individuals associated with them.
- The sanctions concerning the flight ban and the embargo on acetic anhydride sale imposed by UNSCR 1267(1999) and 1333(2000) are no longer in force in accordance with paragraph 23 of UNSCR 1333(2000) and paragraph 1 of UNSCR 1390(2002). Moreover, all restrictive measures against Ariana Afghan Airlines were terminated by UNSCR 1388(2002) of 15 January 2002.
- Therefore, the European Union restrictive measures adopted pursuant to UNSCR and 1333(2000) should be adjusted in accordance with UNSCR 1390(2002).
- For the sake of clarity and transparency, those European Union restrictive measures as referred to in the relevant Council Common Positions should be compiled in one legal instrument and therefore Common Positions 96/746/CFSP (1), 1999/727/CFSP (2), 2001/154/CFSP (3) and 2001/771/CFSP (4) should be repealed.
- Action by the Community is needed in order to implement certain measures,

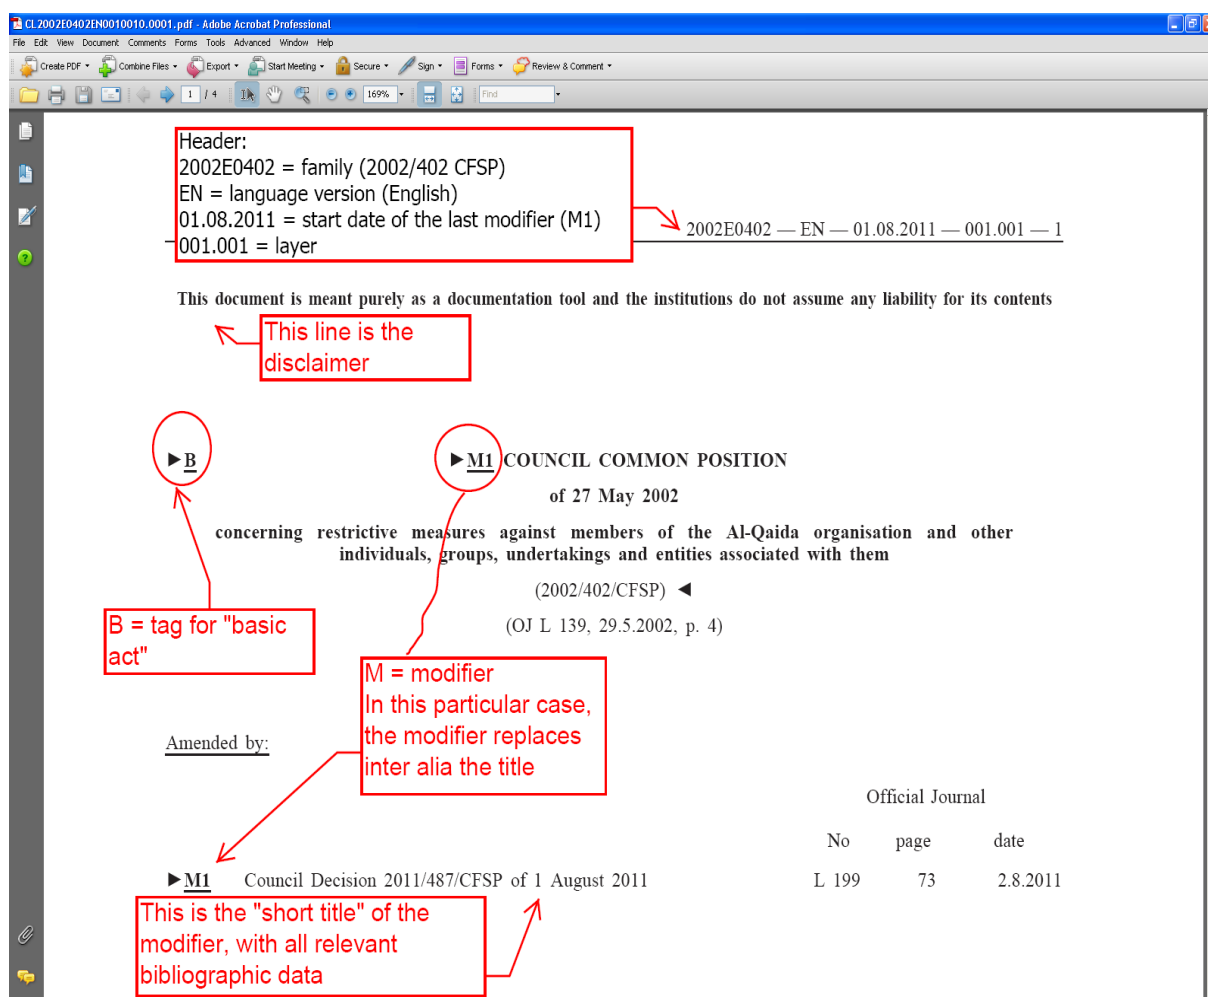

Fig. 6

The screenshot shows the address bar of a Windows Internet Explorer browser. The URL entered is: <http://eur-lex.europa.eu/LexUriServ/LexUriServ.do?url=CONSLEG:2002E0402:20110801:EN:PDF>. The browser window title is "Windows Internet Explorer". The address bar also shows a search bar with the text "google" and a magnifying glass icon.

To perform this check, you may access via EUR-Lex the Council Decision

As shown below, Art. 1, point 1 of 2011/487/CFSP (= M1) requires the replacement of the title (see Fig. 8).

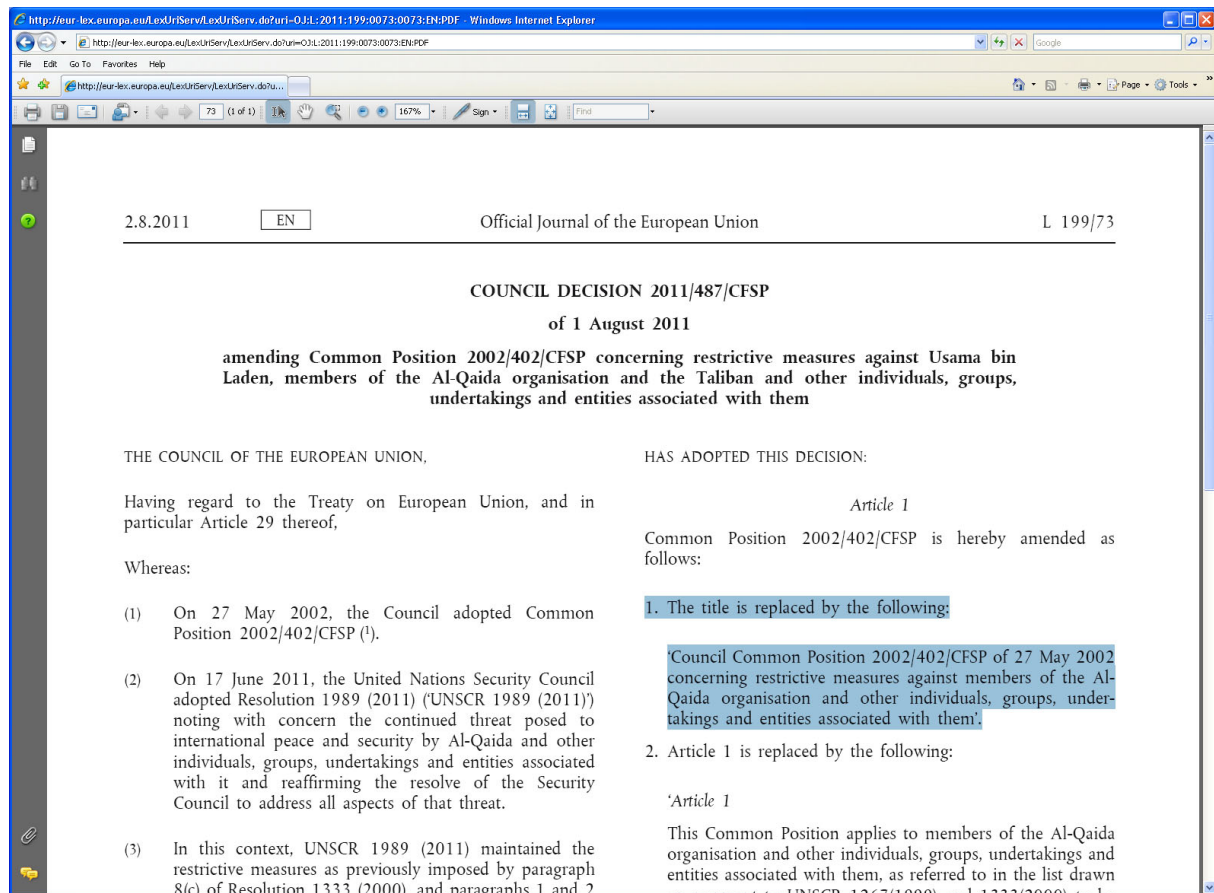

Fig 8

You can now check if the replacement has been correctly incorporated into the consolidated document performed (see Fig. 7 above). This is the case.

You can now proceed in the same way for further amendments.

4 How to use the bibliographic notice

The so called "bibliographic notice" provides, inter alia, a compact overview of the amendments affecting a given legal act. Further, the notice contains information on the "start date" (date of entry into force) of amendments, as well as a direct link to the consolidated version of the act concerned, etc.

Therefore, the notice may constitute a useful additional tool in the frame of the consistency check.

One way to access the bibliographic notice is via CELEX. After having selected the CELEX search option, enter "3" (= sector dedicated to the secondary legislation) + the CELEX number of the required document.

For instance, to display the bibliographic notice of the Council Common Position 2002/402, i.e. the basic act, enter 32002E0402 (see Fig. 9).

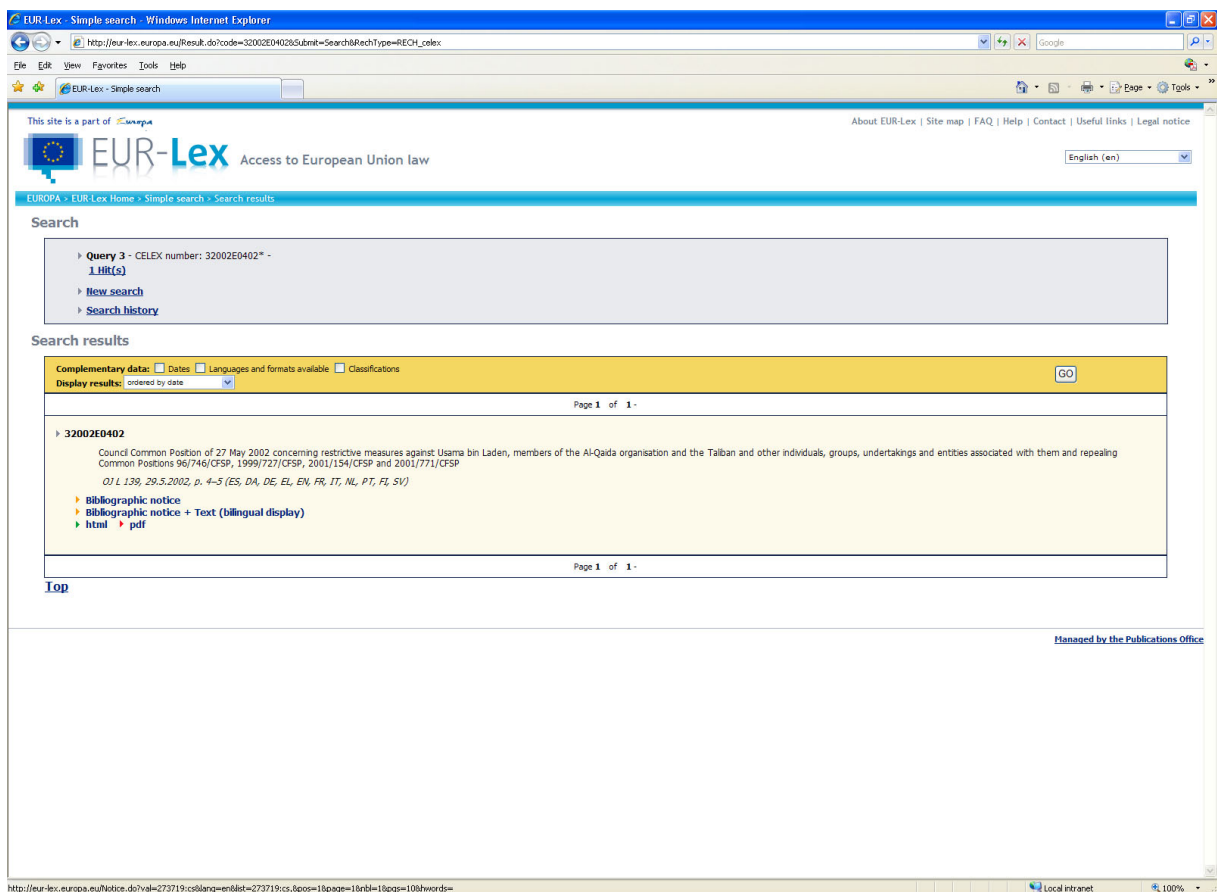

Fig. 9

Click on "bibliographic notice", following text is displayed (see Fig. 10)

The second entry of the section "Amended by" (page bottom), i.e. "Amended by 32011D0487 Replacement Title from 01/08/2011", refers to the above mentioned amendment, providing a direct link to the modifier (32011D0487 = "M1").

Fig 11 (see below) displays the bibliographic notice of the modifier (32011D0487 = "M1"). The section "Dates" (top of the page) provides information on the date of entry into force of this amending act.
